RESPONSE TO NOTICE OF INCOMPLETE NONPROVISIONAL APPLICATION

Dear Sir,

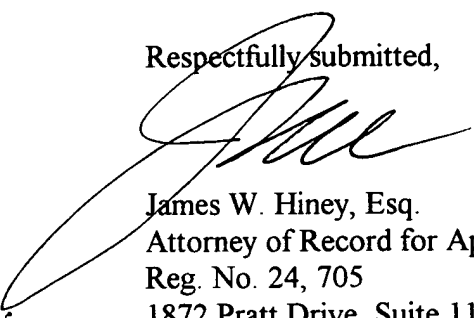

Enclosed herewith are (a) new affidavits executed by the two inventors attesting to the invention including specification and claims as filed and (b) another set of the claims 1-32 which were filed earlier with the case on October 24, 2001.

It should be noted that a separate petition is being filed herewith to protest the inept handling of this case by Customer Service and the callous treatment of the undersigned in attempting to resolve what happened to the claims and to obtain the original filing date of this case. As noted in the affidavit accompanying the Petition, the undersigned himself filed the original case together with the claims and it is apparent that the Office misplaced the claims after improperly noting that the case was not filed in English in its first objection mailed March 29, 2001 to the filing. The undersigned called the number given on the second Notice of Incomplete Nonprovisional Application mailed May 5, 2001 (703-308-1202) on three separate occasions over three weeks and was told either he had "an attitude", or they would "have to order it". It was allegedly ordered three separate times with promises to call the undersigned but no one ever called.

Thus, applicant's were never afforded the opportunity to discuss the case with Customer Service. It is apparent that "Customer Service" should be renamed "Customer Disservice" and that this new procedure is acutely awful in its execution. A separate letter of Complaint to the Commissioner is being filed as well. The arrogant disregard of the applicant's rights is astonishing.

As the unnecessary requirements of the Notice of Incomplete Nonprovisional Application have been met, namely, the filing of a second set of claims (which WERE filed with the case originally) and the two newly executed declarations covering the claims have been submitted within two months of the date of mailing of the notice, on May 4, 2001.

Respectfully submitted,

James W. Hiney, Esq.
